My Classroom

My classroom is a jewel,
Among one of the beauties to dwell,

My classroom is a place where teachers teach,
Professors preach,

The tables are coloured in red,
Although they are not as soft as bed,

My classroom is used almost everyday,
Although in many a ways,

Boys come here to drool,
Girls the same to rule,

My classroom is the best,
Leaving behind all the rest,

Together with all my teachers and friends
I pray,
To be in classroom everyday.

I'm My Classroom

People think they know. They think they know what happen in my classroom. They see a person at the front of the room. They see students at desks when they don't see it. They think something. They don't know.

Students talking.

Students asking.

Students questioning.

Students curiosity.

Students understanding.

Students work together!

Students working alone.

Students finding out.

Students looking further.

Students inside.

Students outside.

Students learning

They don't have to be at a desk to learn.
They don't have to be doing a test to learn.
They don't have to read a textbook to learn.
They don't have to work in isolation to learn.

The Most Important Thing in My Life

What should be the goal of one's life? Being successful, becoming a scientist, becoming a millionaire or becoming a monk? Should it be a milestone or can the goal itself be a journey? Can we achieve the goal or is it something like perfection which can only be aimed for, never achieved. Even though these questions are of paramount importance, most of us do not have clear and ready answers for it and we blindly plod on through the daily working of life. But introspect for a minute and the answer readily presents itself to you.

The thing which everybody should be striving for and which should be at the top of our priorities is being happy! Yes as simple as that. Do whatever makes you happy and try to be happy and whatever you are doing and have. But as simple as it may sound and even though we know it to be the most important thing deep within ourselves, happiness too takes effort or does it?

So, why do we have to work towards becoming happy? Every emotion seems to originate from the circumstances that we are in. This makes it clear on to achieve a particular feeling. Attune your environment accordingly.

In order to be happy, do the things that make you happy and with the people that bring smile on your face.

Most important things in my life.

The first most important thing in my life is my family. Family is most important to me because no matter what happens they always stick up for me. One day I can argue with them and they still make me look good when someone talks bad. One day I can get mad and say something unnecessary and they still understand and forgive me. Another reason family is important to me is because help me when I'm in trouble. I know without my family I wouldn't be the person I am.

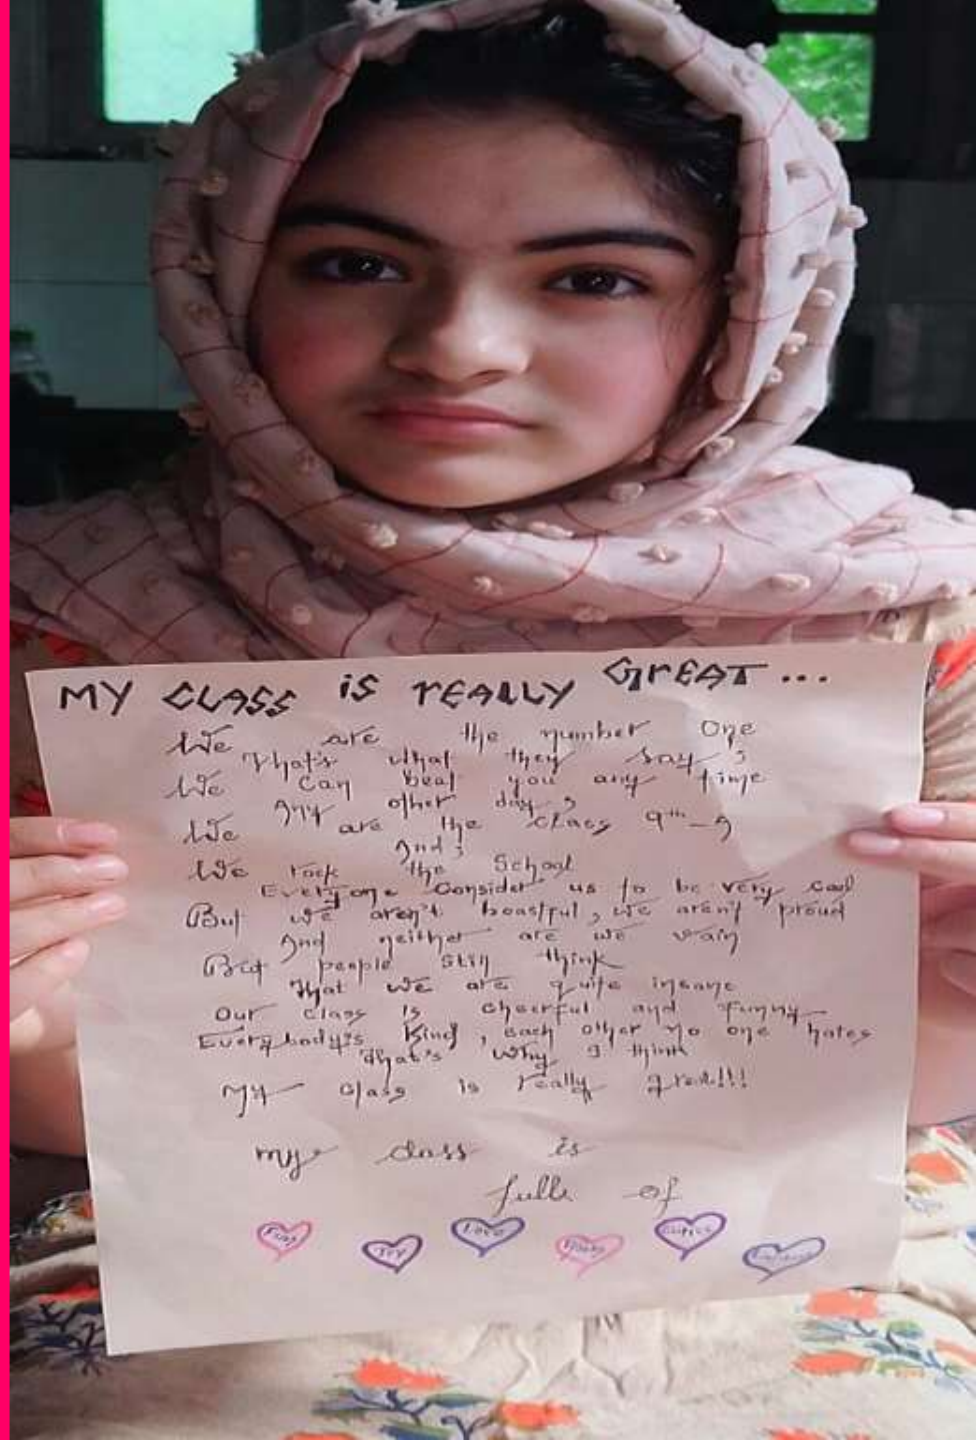

The second important thing in my life is school. School is important because it's teaching me responsibility. By having a certain amount of tardies or absences the school will have you placed in an alternate school program. Having consequences for turning in assignments gets me ready for the work place by having me do things by a certain time. School is also important because it give me a better future. Staying in school will help me be a responsible and successful person in the real world.

MY CLASS IS REALLY GREAT...

We are the number one
That's what they say;
We can beat you any time
Any other day;
We are the class 9th-A
And;
We rock the school
Everyone consider us to be very cool
But we aren't boastful, we aren't proud
And neither are we vain
But people still think
That we are quite insane
Our class is cheerful and funny
Everybody's kind, each other no one hates
That's why I think
My class is really great!!!

"Your Heaven Lies Under The Feet
Of Your Mother And Your Father Is
The Door Of Heaven."

The most helpful persons i have met are my parents. They are blessings in my life. I think I'm so lucky that they are in my life. They always help me. My mother loves me and my father cares me. The love, care and help are the reasons beyond this 'helpful persons I have

We should respect our parents.
If we cannot do this so our life is like a smile without happiness or a house without windows...

"Nobody On Earth Can-even Love You
More Than Your Parents."

MOST IMPORTANT THING IN MY LIFE

Beginning with the meaning of LIFE. Life is meant by the period between birth and death,
what happens in between, it is under our control,
it is the only thing under our control.

Coming on the most important thing in life. There are various important things but the most important thing is nothing but the life itself. Every second we breath air we are never ever going to inhale again, we are living minutes we will never get back again. It is our one time opportunity not to miss. Every thing can happen only if there is life. Now you will be wondering that why I chose life as I have to chose inside the life. The answer to this is that as I mention earlier that life is a period means time. So actually I am talking about time in life which is the most important thing in life. It is the only thing if utilized correctly it can give us everything but if the very same time ~~neglecting~~ neglected.
It leaves us with very little.

→ "Families are like branches on a tree. We grow in different directions yet our roots remain as one."

Family is one of the most important and valuable gifts of our life. The word "Family" itself is so important that it means to feel secure with whom you can always count on, whom you can always share your problems, whom you can play with all the time, whom you can freshen up your mood anytime.

→ "Family is not an important thing. It's everything..." What family really means to myself is love. Someone who is always there for me throughout my life in both good and bad times. Family to me means encouragement, comfort, advice, values, morals, faith, understanding, hope and lots more. These things are extremely important to me as they make me to feel happy inside regardless of whatever is happening in my external life.

→ "Being a family means you are part of something very wonderful. It means you will love and be loved for the rest of your life."

... My dear KASHMIR ...

where mountains are covered with snow.

when clean waters flow.
And where cool breeze always blow.

This is my dear Kashmir hello!
when i see my eyes beings to drop.

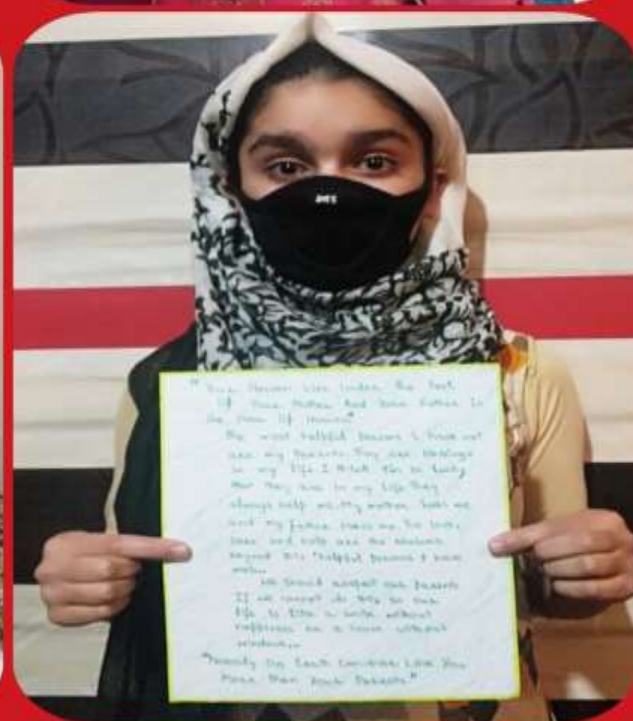

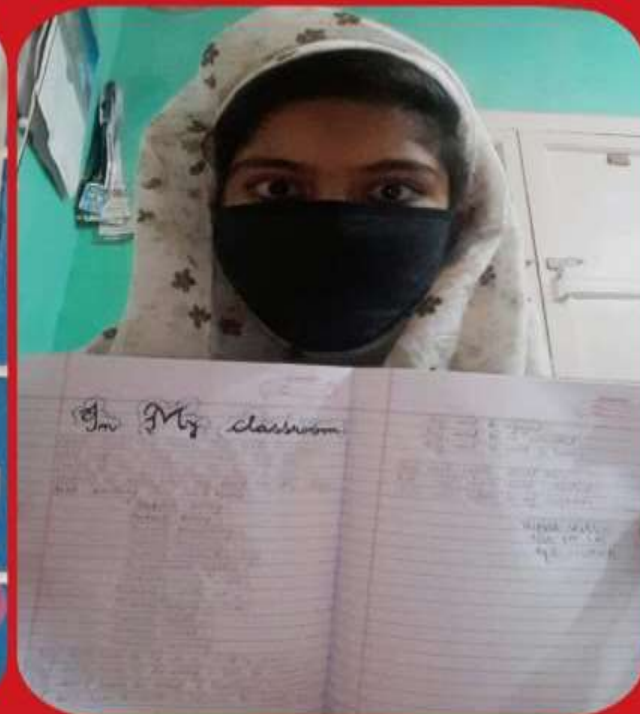

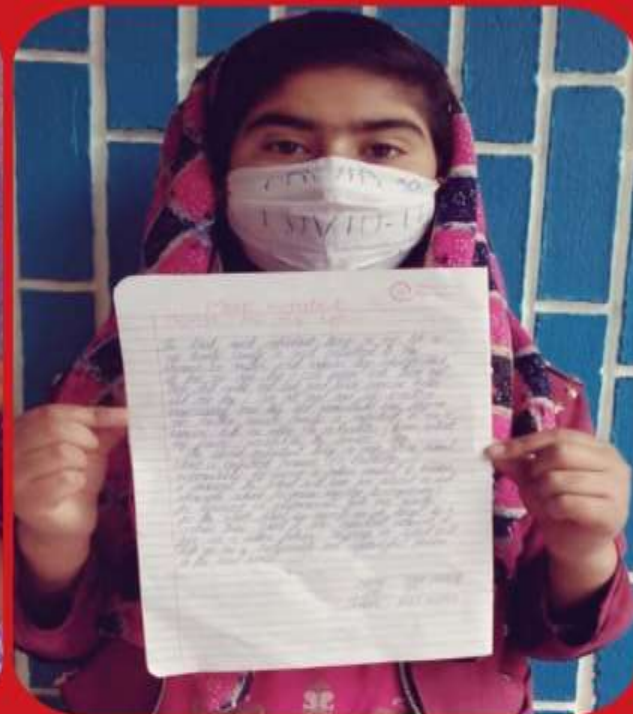

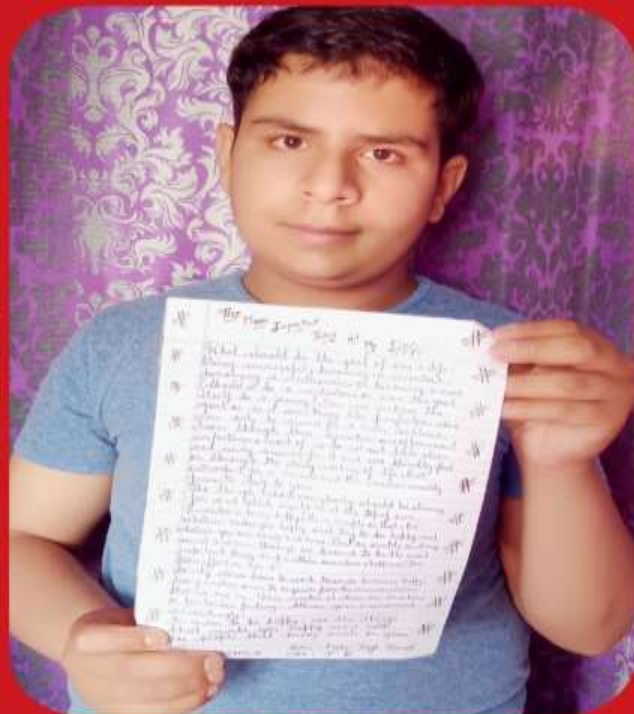

And where the people enjoy and laugh.

That is my Kashmir,
oh dear!
when i see gardens of my dear land.

Multicoloured flowers in one hand.
And where i always feel great joy.

That is my Kashmir, oh little girl!

where the forests are very vast
And yet they are still more
That is my dear Kashmir!

one invaluable help. They enhance my knowledge, make me wiser & efficient. After studying them & studying them I pass not only exams (academic examinations) but also invaluable placed examinations that life keeps conducting. So often they are the richest source of inspiration for me. When I read the stories of great women in their biographies & autobiographies, I am filled to the brim with enthusiasm for life, strength to keep on endeavouring.

So you see I have a long list of helpful people & things in my life!

"-the purpose of our life is to live it, to taste experience to the utmost to reach out eagerly & without fears for a richer experience."
